Second Samnite War

327 BC

Alexander the Great invaded India

327 B.C - 290 B.C

Resistive Samnite Wars broke out.
The Samnites, a powerful Italic people settled in Cantoris in the uplands of the southern APENNINES, began to expand in the 4th Century B.C. When the Romans set up a colony at Fregellae, to block one of the Samnite points of entry into Campania and intervened in the affairs of Naples.
